

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

This book is possible only because many people have cooperated with me in producing it. First, I thank Christyann Ranck, my former wife, the first editor of these pages, whose tolerance of me while I focused on this project is appreciated. Second, I thank United Community Church of Cortland, New York, for a sabbatical during which I traveled to do research. Third, I thank the other historians, who read my rough drafts, and offered helpful feedback: Rich Christensen, John Payne, Randi Walker, Barbara Brown Zikmund, and Lowell Zuck. Fourth, I thank the archivists who willingly helped me. This includes all of the staff at the Congregational Library, Boston, Evangelical and Reformed Historical Society, Lancaster, United Church of Christ Archives, Cleveland, Eden Archives, Saint Louis, and Amistad Research Center, New Orleans. I also thank the staff of the Inter-Library Loan Department at Memorial Library, State University of New York at Cortland, for their magical ability to find materials. Fifth, I thank persons on the national staff of the United Church of Christ, past and present, who have assisted me in finding information, in particular José Malayang, José Abraham de Jesús, Steven D. Johnson, Arthur G. Clyde, and Sheila Kelly.